Adult Literacy Online

Date: November 05, 2020

1:00 PM - 2:00 PM EASTERN

Location: Online

Adult Literacy can be a challenge during the best of times. During our current times, it can seem impossible. During this session, we will explore ideas on bringing adult literacy programs back on track, including:

- Free tools for self-motivated students;
- Helping tutors and students connect online;
- Creative ideas for online learning opportunities for students;
- Resources for literacy programs.

Attendees are encouraged to bring and share their creative solutions for running a literacy department in our current times.

Dewey Decimal Classification for Beginners

Date: November 12, 2020

10:00 AM - 11:00 AM EASTERN

Location: Online

Dewey Decimal Classification (DDC) is a library organization system popular around the world and commonly found in school and public libraries. It provides an “address” for each resource, as well as organizes resources primarily by subject matter. In this webinar, participants will learn about the structure of DDC, how to find DDC numbers in WebDewey and in other resources, and how to build basic DDC numbers using WebDewey.

There will be plenty of examples to illustrate Dewey concepts and number building. This webinar is perfect for Dewey novices, as well as those looking to refresh their knowledge!
