FEATURED WEBINARS

Beyond the Basics: Creating Engaging Programming via Zoom

Date: August 12, 2021   11:00 AM - 12:00 PM EASTERN   Location: Online

How do we make an online meeting, event, or program more engaging to our remote users? How can we get people to stop checking email, playing games, or browsing social media while we present?

During this fun, interactive webinar, we will delve into how to engage users on online platforms. We will explore utilizing the Advanced Features in Zoom to create the best room and set-up for your online meeting; outside tools that can create engagement; and best practices and techniques for keeping engagement in an online meeting.

We will focus on Zoom, but the ideas will be transferable to many online meeting software.

Managing Priorities

Date: August 18, 2021   2:00 PM - 3:30 PM EASTERN   Location: Online

It's official – there is simply too much to do to ever get it all done! But as much as we'd like it to be, surrender is NOT an option. Instead, it's time we manage our priorities rather than letting our priorities manage us.

In this session, we will discover the obstacles that tend to keep us from managing our priorities – and what we can do to overcome those obstacles. Are you a procrastinator? Do pesky interruptions take up the bulk of your day? Are you a victim of "marathon meeting madness"? There is help for each of these time-robbers – but first you need to be aware of where your time is going.

We'll then look at specific tips and techniques that will help keep you on target in managing your priorities – and your time.

Building Accessible Websites

Date: August 24, 2021   10:00 AM - 11:00 AM EASTERN

Location: Online

An accessible website is good practice and makes your website more usable by everyone. Beyond best practice and design, it is also the law.

During this introductory session, we will explore:

- What is ADA, WCAG 2.1, and what do the standards require?
- How to evaluate colors and fonts for readability and contrast?
- What are tags and labels, and how can we use them?
- How to use images and PDF documents in compliance?
- Overall best practices and tools to help you get started.

Library of Congress Classification (LCC) Number Building Basics

Date: August 31, 2021   11:00 AM - 12:00 PM EASTERN

Location: Online

Library of Congress Classification (LCC) is used to organize resources in many libraries, particularly academic libraries. It provides an "address" for each resource, as well as organizes resources primarily by subject matter. In this webinar, participants will learn how to build basic and more complex LCC call numbers using Tables. Access to Classification Web is preferred, but not required. This webinar series is perfect for LCC novices, as well as those looking to refresh their LCC knowledge!

LIBRARY LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

It is not required to have attended the July 13, 2021 "Introduction to Library of Congress Classification (LCC)" webinar in order to attend this webinar. You are encouraged to register by clicking here.